Fifty-nine Year Rivalry to Reopen As Continentals Host Lick and Co.

by Pete Dayton

The Hamilton College Continentals will make their 1954 football debut tomorrow afternoon against the R. P. I. Engineers at 2 p. m. on Steuben Field. The game is also the first of the year for the Engineers who have been picked as the favorite over the injury-riddled Hillmen.

Sparked by Little All-American halfback Willie Lick, R. P. I. will run from an unbalanced T-formation tomorrow. Lick who averaged 5.2 yards per carry last year, was bothered by a leg injury in the early season, but is reported in top shape for the Hamilton tilt.

Jones Makes Changes

Hamilton coach Don Jones, plagued since the team's initial practices by injuries, has been forced to make some late revisions in his starting lineup, especially in his forward line. His biggest problem for the opener is the lack of depth at the tackle positions. Fritz Houtenbrink and John Weatherly, both first stringers, are on the injury list, leaving only Walt Crosier, Wayne Mahood, Tony Romano, and Mal McClinchie to carry the burden.

New complications in Weatherly's knee will keep him out for at least four weeks, though Houtenbrink will probably be ready for the Wagner game. Also injured is Joe Giglio, but he should be ready for duty by next week.

Lineup Named

With these injuries to three of his potential starters, Giglio, Weatherly, and Houtenbrink, Jones has named this starting lineup. At the ends will be Bill Fivaz and Peter Eld; at the tackles, Wayne Mahood, who was shifted from center, and big Walt Crosier. John Penny and Captain Ed Reed will play the guards, and Joe O'Brien will be at center.

Cline Quarterback

In the backfield, Jones will put either Hal Bruck or Jack McDonald at left half. Jimmy White will start at right half, Earl Cline and Carl Hansen will start at quarter and full respecively.

Reserves Listed

Behind these starters Jones will use Frank O'Brien, and John Glezen in the backfield, Fred Wierdsma, Carl Reckwell, Bob Driscoll and Bob Riordon at the guards and John Murphy and Bill Waldron at the ends.

Record Stands 9-11-3

Though tomorrow's clash is the first between Hamilton and R.P.I. since 1942, the ri-

Steuben field will be the scene of action again tomorrow as the Hamilton Continentals, shown above in a 1953 encounter, play host to the Engineers of R. P. I. in the 24th renewal of the rivalry between the two colleges.

Jessup to Lecture On "United Nations"

Dr. Phillip C. Jessup, '19, former U. S. ambassador at large, will speak in the Chapel next Friday, October 8, at 8 p. m., under the auspices of the International Relations Club. His topic will be What the U. N. Means to the U. S.

This lecture is being given in accordance with the College's celebration of U. N. Day. A tea will be held in his honor on that afternoon.

Although Jessup has spent most of his career in the teaching profession, he is probably best known for his work with the U. S. government on the international scene. Perhaps his greatest accomplishment on the international front was the important role he played in breaking the Berlin Blockade in 1948.

Jessup's first important work in international politics came in 1929 when he was an assistant to Elihu Root at the conference of Jurists on the Permanent Court of International Justice. In the following year he held the position of legal advisor to the American ambassador to Cuba.

During the years 1943 and 1944 Jessup was assistant secretary general at the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration and the Breton Woods conferences. In 1945 he was an assistant on the judicial organization as a U. S. delegate to the San Francisco Conference. Jessup represented the U. S. in 1947 on the world-wide Commission on Codification and Development of International Law.

For three years, 1948 to 1951, Jessup was the U. S. deputy representative to the interim commission of the U. N. General Assembly and Security Council.

Jessup spent most of his teaching career at Columbia University. In 1935 he became a full professor at Columbia and in 1946 he was awarded the Hamilton Fish professorship in international law and dipomacy. During 1938 he was a visiting professor at Harvard Law School.

Jessup has also written many books dealing with international law. In 1929 he wrote The U. S.

Professor Greene Of Yale to Speak In Forum Sunday

Starts This Year's Morron Lectures

Professor Theodore M. Greene of the Department of Philosophy at Yale University will deliver the first in a series of lectures on the Christian faith in the Hamilton College Chapel this Sunday. He is the first speaker in the annual John Herschel Morron Lecture Series.

The lecturship, set up by Morron's son John in memory of his father, class of 1859, has an endowment of $50,000. The first of the lectures was delivered in 1953 by the Reverend George O. Butterick of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City.

The 1954-55 series will feature five speakers, all addressing the College on the subject, The Rationality of the Christian Faith. On May 6 the five will return to Hamilton to participate in a symposium. At the symposium, the speakers will have had an opportunity to see what the others have said and will be able to defend and criticize each other's point of view.

Coaches Of Debate Slated To Attend Fall Meeting Here

Hamilton will play host this weekend to the fall meeting of the New York State Debate Coaches' Association. About twenty-five colleges will be represented.

The group will meet Saturday morning and the main order of business will be planning the Albany Conference held in the spring. This conference is a model state legislature in which student representatives consider and report on bills, elect chairmen of committees, and a speaker of the house. To add a tinge of reality, the model legislature acually meets in the chambers of the New York State House of Representatives in the State Capitol building. Last year Hamilton sent three representatives to this conference.

After the morning meeting, the coaches will eat dinner in Commons and will attend the Hamilton-R.P.I. football game in the afernoon.

Spanish Club Will Meet Wed. Night

Next Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. the Spanish Club will elect officers for the current academic year. Also there will be a program in which several students will participate presenting piano and guitar selections. Professor Cotto-Thorner, advisor of the Club, has stated that he feels there is a greater interest in Spanish than last year and that "this attitude will certainly be reflected in the forthcoming activities of our Spanish cultural organization on campus." All Spanish students are invited to next Wednesday's meeting in he Baker Memorial Room.

Hamilton Frosh to "Share" 90 Wells Coeds at Game, Dance

This weekend's activities begin tomorrow when the Hamilton Continentals open their home football season against R. P. I. The game starts at 2:00 p. m. on Steuben Field. The last time the two teams met was in 1942, but the series, started in 1895, is by no means a new rivalry.

Ninety Wells College freshmen are expected to arrive at approximately 3:00 p.m. Saturday in front of the gymnasium. Since Wells has Saturday morning classes it is impossible for the girls to arrive any earlier. All freshmen who have signed the date books should report to the gym at this time. Was Los and the Social Committee will have charge of pairing off the couples.

Freshmen and their dates will be admitted to the dance free. Admission price for upperclassmen will be $1.00 per couple and $.75 stag. During the intermission the Buffers octet will make their first appearance of the year.

Charlatans Choose B. Carroll of '56 Assistant Director

Ben Carroll, '56, was elected assistant director of the Charlatans at a meeting held last Monday night in the Baker Memorial Room. Since there was no quorum at the meeting the election remains provisional until it can be confirmed a a meeting where a quorum is present.

Carroll, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, has been active in the Charlatans for the past two years. In 1953 he appeared in The Dog Watch, a one-act play, and last year he had roles in Billy Budd and King Henry IV. This past summer he gained professional experience by appearing in six summer stock productions at the Sharon Playhouse.

Bob Ward, director of the Charlatans, has announced a tentative schedule for this year. On October 11 and 12 tryouts will be held for the fall producion which will be presented on November 18.

All Freshmen who have signed up for blind dates from Wells are reminded that they should be in the gymnasium lobby at 3:00 p. m. Saturday to pick up their dates.

D. T. Society Rings First Three Frosh

Yesterday after Chapel, D.T., the Sophomore Honor Society, ringed three freshmen with toilet seats. They were: Jay Crawford, Delta Upsilon; Phil Thorp, Sigma Phi; and Pete Winthrop, Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The toilet seats, bought by D.T., especially for this occasion, bore such inscriptions as "I'm Great," "Head Man," and "Flush Me." Every year several freshmen are picked by D.T. to wear these toilet seats for one week because they have either failed to wear their dinks or walked on the grass.

Betty Allen Starts Hill Concert Series On Monday Night

On Monday, October 4, at 8 p.m. in the Chapel, mezzo soprano Betty Allen will give the first recital of the 1954-55 Hamilton Concert Series. Miss Allen will present a varied program including the works of Schubert, Poulnec, and Gershwin.

Miss Allen's singing has won wide acclaim in her recent appearances at Carnegie Hall in New York and the Naional Gallery in Washington. She was the first singer to be selected to take part in an exchange of musical artists between the United States and France. Berrian Shute, Professor of Music at Hamilton, said that Miss Allen will be one of the most promising singers ever heard on the hill.

Students Describe European Travels

Forty members of the International Relations Club heard first hand accounts of political and social conditions in Europe at the Club's first meeting of the year in the Baker Memorial Room last nigh.

Bob Ward and Lee Holmsten, both seniors, spent their summers in Europe as members of work camps sponsored by American Friends Service Committee, and they reported to the Club on their experiences.

In Germany and France

Ward participated i nthree work projects during the summer including helping German families build homes for themselves and assisting French families in health projects.

Working closely with the Germans and the French, he observed that the French were a lazy, shiftless people in comparison with the Germans. "All they seemed to care about was their bottle of wine every day," Ward commented. He noted that the French economy was completely antiquated, pointing out that the French paid taxes only when they wanted to and used farm machinery that was completely outmoded.

In contrast to the French, the German economy, according to Ward, appeared much more sound. From talking with the German people Ward suggested that Germany could switch very quickly from a civilian to a wartime economy although this was not openly evident. He characterized the Germans as hard-working and industrious. The German miners would work eight hours in the mines and then eight more hours in helping their fellow townsmen build homes.

Finns Independent

Holmsten spent his time in Finland where he noted that the native people were extremely independent and for the most part anti-Russian. Holmsten's work camp was made up of young men and women from all over Europe, and he noted that the Finns were also a hard-working people.

Here And There

by Bob Fellows

Clinton Scollard, who later became well known as a poet, was the first baseball pitcher to throw a curve. He got the idea from a statue of the discus thrower in the Hamilton library. Just goes to show what a little imagination can do!

Trustee Alex Osborn is another Hamilton Alumnus who believes in using his imagination and creative power. Scribner's Sons brought out the third book of advertiser Osborn (of Batten, Barton, Durston and Osborn) entitled Applied Imagination. In this book Osborn poses such brain twisters as: "If you were caught in the open sea in a powerboat, and lost your rudder, how would you steer to port?" His questions and problems are designed to stimulate his readers into letting their minds run free in search of useful and unusual ideas. Among the other 'stretchers' he poses are:

"Your mind is like a parachute; its no use unless its open! To a similar result complete the following: Life is like a Bible; . . . Love is like a flying saucer; . . . Love is like Grandma's spectacles.

Suggest a single word of your own coinage to describe each of the following: a supper made up of left overs . . . butts and ashes left in a receiver after a long evening, . . . crumbs in the bed, . . . a party of ten men and one girl.

Name a useful combination for each of the following groups of objects: a volley ball and a steel spring; 13 empty pop bottles and 72 ounces of water.

"Make up a parody of a Mother Goose rhyme.

"A man living on the 22nd floor could take his automatic elevator all the way down, but not all the way up. Why?

"Which of the following would best lend itself to starting a fire: (a) a fountain pen; (b) an onion; (c) a pocket watch; (d) a light bulb; (e) a bowling ball?

Trustee Osborn gives no answers to these questions, but invites his readers to apply their imagination as freely as possible to solve these, and, of course, other more practical problems. Give them a try and send us your solutions.

A sneak look at the second semester S. C. A. films shows such titles as "Passport to Pimlico and The Promoter, as well as other popular J. Arthur Rank and American features. Incidently, this weekend's showing, Quartet, is a fine production of four of Somerset Maugham's fine stories.

Oberlin College in Ohio has sent four of its faculty members to 25 medical schools to study pre-medical education and the liberal arts. Oberlin wants to find out how success in med school relates to undergraduate study programs. In other words, does the student who has had a large number of liberal arts courses do as well in medical school at the student who weighted his undergraduate programs heavily with the usual pre medical courses. The report should be ready sometime in 1955.

Dartmouth College casually reports that as a result of an alumni drive held last year full operating expenses have been met for the year 1953-1954, two more $30,000 scholarships have been established, and there is a surplus for other scholarship purposes. The fund raised $700,365!

'Spectator' Meets Senator Ives After Nomination for Governor

by Earl Harbert

"I'm grateful for the wonderful interest that the College seems to be taking in my career," said Irving M. Ives, '19, in an exclusive Spectator interview only minutes after his nomination as Republican candidate for Governor of the State of New York. Ives was interviewed in his suite at the Hotel Syracuse immediately after his return from the Syracuse War Memorial, where his speech of acceptance was greeted by a standing ovation from the 1,000 delegates present.

Tired From Strain

Obviously tired from the strain of the convention, he went on to explain that a tight schedule of committee meetings had made it impossible to grant The Spectator an interview at an earlier time. Dropping heavily into a chair, Ives commentted that he had only slept one hour Wednesday night and that his voice was so hoarse that he and the World Court. In 1938 he wrote Elihu Root which was a presentation of some of Mr. Root's papers and speeches. His most recent book, A Modern Law of Nations, was published in 1948. Jessup is also a member of the board of editors of the American Journal of International Law.

Jessup was elected to the Board of Trustees of Hamilton in 1949 and he has been a member since then. While at Hamilton, he was a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity.

Psi U, ADP Lead IM Contest; Golf, Tennis Matches Started;

The opening rounds of the intramural golf and tennis tournaments got under way on Monday, September 27. The tournaments which are open to all members of the student body, regardless of class or intercollegiate experience, are under the direction of the intramural council, with Bob Miller handling golf and Shedd Williams, tennis. The golf tournament is being run on a nine hole match play system while the tennis tournament is being run on a one set system.

Each of the tournaments has attracted about thirty contestants who are supposed to be cut to sixteen by the first round play. The first round is scheduled to end October 4.

Psi U and Alpha Delt jumped to the top of the intramural ladder this week, each house turning in an undefeated record in boh football and volleyball competition as the fall program got into full swing. The Psi U's copped two straight victories in both Blue League football and volleyball, while the Alpha Delts did the same in the Buff League.

Shaler Excells In Cross Country First Timed Trials

Coach Gene Long's harriers went through their first timed run of the season yesterday with "encouraging" results. Although the young cross country mentor would make no predictions as to the team's chances for a successful season, he did state that most of the times recorded were "good for early in the year."

Captain Al Shaler's performance was by far the best of the day. The fleet-footed sophomore covered the two and one-half mile course through Root Glen in fourteen minutes and four seconds to lead all candidates. Twenty yards back of Shaler came freshman Milt Harkrader with a time of fourteen minutes and thirty-five seconds. Other men and their times were: Sam Sade, 14:41; Chris Durham, 15:23; Dunc Cutter, 15:32; Tom Farrell, 15:34; Dave Gorman, 16:11; Dick Holley, 16:15; and Buck Smith, 18:45.

In the two weeks remaining before the opening meet with Cortland, Long faces the prob Cortland, Long faces the problem of trying to build a strong team around Shaler. With most of the other members of the teambeing relatively new to cross country, he is still uncertain as to what kind of a record the team can compile. Although Shaler will certainly be a contender for first place in every meet, most contests are decided by the men who finish third, fourth, fifth, and sixth, so Long must find the men who can give Shaler the necessary support.

Booters Will Face Favored I. C. Team In Season Opener

Hamilton's question-mark soccer squad travels to Ithaca tomorrow to face a strong Ithaca College team. The Blue booters have shown fine team play lately, and Coach Tomik believes that tomorrow's victor will win with a one goal advantage.

However, on the experience of past years and Ithaca's record to date, Hamilton is a slight underdog. Ithaca, having never lost to Hamilton, has edged the Blue for the last three years. In last week's opener, the Ithacans gave Army a stubborn fight before losing, 2-1.

Injuries Take Toll

Injuries have also weakened the Blue's chances as Harvey Katz, Al Stripp, and Bill Edmunds will see only limited action at best.

Spirit is high and team work is excellent at this early date. These two factors might more than offset the loss of last year's outstanding players.

Power at Insides

The scoring punch will undoubtedly come from the insides, Captain Jack McMahon and Bob Lawler. Freshman

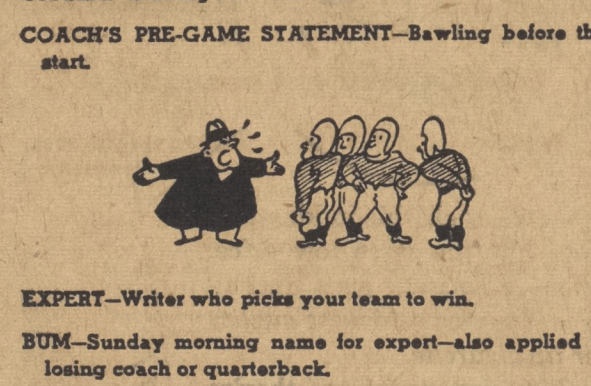
The winter reading is scheduled for December 8 while the three student writen one-act plays will be seen on March 10. The spring production will again take place on houseparty weekend, May 4-6.



GLOSSARY OF FOOTBALL TERMS

MAYBE you have the same trouble that we do. We go to a football game and see University beat State, 6-0, on an end run. Then we pick up our Sunday paper and we read about razzle-dazzles, inside-outside spinners, mouse-traps, triple laterals, bronzed young giants, heroic stands in the face of disaster, and a lot of other mouth-filling things.

We look at the little woman and we say, "Gosh — was THAT where we were!"

And so, to those of you who have the same difficulty we do in understanding the vocabulary of the football sports writer, we dedicate this little glossary of favorite football terms:

OFFSIDE—Starting before the ball.

COACH'S PRE-GAME STATEMENT—Bawling before the start.

EXPERT—Writer who picks your team to win.

BUM—Sunday morning name for expert—also applied to losing coach or quarterback.

STATISTICS—Figures showing that your team really deserved to win.

COMEBACK—part of popular air, "Come back to Erin."

MORAL VICTORY—Opponents 54, your team 2.

BREAK OF THE GAME—Opponents recover your fumble.

HEADS-UP FOOTBALL—You recover opponents' fumble.

DECISIVE VICTORY—Your team 7, opponents 6.

FLUKE—Oponents 7, your team 6.

MOUSE-TRAP—The thing which, if you build a better one than anybody else, though you live in a forest, the world will beat a rootpath to your door to get.

CONFIDENCE—Your team's attitude on Friday night.

OVER-CONFIDENCE—Your team's attitude on Friday night, as seen on Sunday morning.

RAZZLE-DAZZLE—Triple-lateral pass good for 24 yards.

LACK OF GENERALSHIP—Calling same play and losing 24 yards.

OFFENSIVE (NOUN)—Ability of your opponents to gain ground at will through your line.

OFFENSIVE (ADJECTIVE)—Their attitude as they keep on gaining ground at will.

QUARTERBACK—Nitwit who couldn't hear the instructions you shouted to him during the game.

RALLY—Scoring two points—all in one quarter.

QUAGMIRE—A muddy field which bogs down your attack.

FIRM FOOTING—Same field, if it bogs down your opponents' attack.

QUICK-KICK—Something which a quarterback pulls out of his bag of tricks, or a fan gets out of a glass container.

SPIN—Queer sensation following a quick-kick.

could barely finish his acceptance speech.

When asked if he might be able to make an appearance here in the near future, Ives expressed doubt that he could find time during the campaign, but said he hoped to spend a few days here sometime after the campaign ends.

Dewey Nominated

Earlier in the morning, delegates had crowded into the massive War Memorial to hear Governor Thomas E. Dewey place the name of Senator Ives in nomination. Immediately after the Dewey speech the crowded convention hall burst into a noisy parade, led by an American Legion brass band and the Norwich delegation waving signs with pictures of Ives. All the marchers wore paper hats and many carried green stuffed elephants or rang cowbells. At the same time, hundreds of red, white, and blue balloons dropped from the ceiling, and the blaze of spotlights and flashbulbs illuminated the whole hall.

Soccer . . . Cont'd.

Ross Ziegler will cener the forward line while Pete Cox and freshman Bob O'Neil will play the wings. Paul Urffer has been moved up from his last year's position at fullback to strengthen the halfback line and thus far has been very impressive, both offensively and defensively. Urffer will have Charlie Grasskamp on his left and Gene Scott on his right. The defense which is yet to be tested will be Bob Ward and freshman Tom Succop at fullbacks and Dave Smalley in the goal.

The crocodile population of the Nile region is reported to be on the decrease.

valry dates back to 1894 and since that time the Engineers have won 11, Hamilton 9, and three games have ended in ties.

The Hamilton College cheerleaders, organized by Dave Tittle, Chi Psi sophomore, will lead the Continental supporters in the traditional football cheers.

Admission is free for all Hamilton students. Kickoff is at two p.m. sharp.
